VIRGINIA EPISCOPAL SCHOOL ADDITIONS & ALTERATIONS TO BANKS-GANNAWAY HALL IN ASSOCIATION WITH CRADDOCK-CUNNINGHAM ARCHITECTURAL PARTNERS

Banks-Gannaway Hall is the central part of campus life at Virginia Episcopal School, housing the dining hall on the first floor and the James A. Hight Library on the second. This project consists of additions and alterations to the existing building, including constructing a new kitchen. The dining hall will be brightened and widened to become better equipped for seating the school's growing enrollment. The library is being renovated to replace shelf space with a coffee house, study space and multimedia space.
